offered for 1st-year students in the English Studies BA program
3-credit seminar

Spring 2026

Course Description

This course is aimed at improving your knowledge of English grammar. The topics we cover throughout the semester include tense, aspect, modal auxiliaries, finite, non-finite clauses, passive and adverbial clauses. We will discuss some chapters from Rodney Huddleston's and Geoffrey K. Pullum's book titled A Student's Introduction to English Grammar, which takes a descriptive approach to grammar, and follow it up with various exercises and lots of discussion. I will also ask you to read an article from reputable newspapers such as the New York Times and the Guardian for most classes. These articles will serve as the basis for eight vocabulary quizzes starting in week 2.
